

CPYRGHT

Donovan Postpones Cuba Trip

The chairman of the Cuban Families Committee said in Miami Tuesday that James B. Donovan's Cuban trip to meet Fidel Castro has been delayed to complete preliminary arrangements.

Donovan, who arranged for the exchange of U2 pilot Francis Powers for a convicted Russian spy, is the committee's general counsel. He had planned to go to Havana this week to negotiate release of 1,112 invasion prisoners.

In New York Tuesday, Donovan revealed his political ambitions with the announcement that he would confer with state Democratic leaders to determine whether he would run for governor of the state or the U.S. Senate.

Enrique Llaca, the Families Committee chairman, said he probably would hear a definite date for Donovan's trip "today or Wednesday, but first all the preliminary arrangements must be made, and there are more than we originally figured on."